

Corporate Responsibility Statement

Our company ethos is based on the fact that the owners are governed by their Christian conscience, so that the wholly Christian ethos regulates the business. The owners have a strong commitment to provide a family based business environment, furnishing a physically and morally safe and happy environment.

We at board level are very aware of the importance of Corporate Social Responsibility and take it very seriously that we are able to sustain what we take on. However, we are also making sure we are growing at a sustainable rate over the next few years and beyond.

As part of the company's policy of continuous improvement, we constantly monitor trends in the industry for innovations and developments that will enable us to supply the latest and best products and equipment designed to make working safer, easier and more efficient.

Respect for the environment, too, is a big consideration for all responsible companies and OnSite Support Ltd takes this responsibility very seriously. Concern for the environment we live in is an integral part of the way we do business, and OnSite Support Ltd is committed to achieving environmental best practise throughout all of its activities, and to continually work towards minimising the impact on the environment of its products and services. We monitor the production chain of products we source and manufacture and aim to ensure that we work with suppliers who conform to this policy. With this in mind we have achieved official recognition of this through ISO 14001 accreditation, please request certificate if you require.
